Additionally, it was noted that the permittee sourced their lumber materials outside their approved supplier. We would like to remind you that according to regulations, the source of lumber of a lumber dealer should solely come from their approved suppliers and they must adhere to this requirement as outlined in the terms and conditions of their certificate of registration.

To ensure compliance of the regulations, it is directed that you carry out regular monitoring of Jim's Lumber Trading's lumber production activities. Additionally, inform Jim's Lumber Trading to strictly comply with the terms and conditions stated in their certificate of registration, specifically the filing of their renewal sixty (60) days prior to its expiration, as well as the submission of monthly stock disposition report. Further, inform this Office of stoppage of operation of the permittee and any other data/information pertaining to their operation.
